

WARNING FOR THE HANDLING OF MAGNETS

- Personnel wearing pacemakers must not handle magnets or be near them
- Magnets should be kept away from sensitive electronic equipment, computer disks, ID's embedded with chips, and credit cards
- Any person required to handle magnets should be properly trained about the potential dangers of operating with magnets.
- Injury is possible to personnel and magnets themselves can be damaged if allowed to snap towards each other, or if nearby metal objects are allowed to be attracted to the magnets.

Watch your hands and fingers to avoid being pinched!
